La Pucelle conduisant le duc au secours de la France, entre dans Orléans assiégé par les Anglois.

The Gallery of Heroick Women.

119

The Maid of Orleans.

HAD you known that this day was to be a day of Miracle and Safety to France; and that you should have assisted at the most Heroick action which hath been ever seen, since Sieges and Battles have been in use; you would be lorry to have come too late: But here is yet enough to give you a right prospect thereof. The adventure is wonderfull in all its Parts; there is something great and prodigious in all its Circumstances: And that which remains for us to see, exceeds by much, whatever can be regularly imagined, and with any true resemblance.

You are no strangers to this Country, and need not learn from me to know Orleans by her Steeples, and the circumstance of her Walls. Likewise you are not ignorant of the Constancy and Fidelity which this great City had shewed, when it was besieged by the English, and reduced to the extremity of hope. But that which you do not yet know, and what no man dares hope for, is, that in despite of the English, and in the very sight of their Camp and Works, Succours, safety and liberty hapned to enter into this Place, under the Conduct of a Maid. Not only hope was not so bold as

Introduction to Historical Texts

Over 480, 000 late 15th to long 19th century texts
(EEBO, ECCO, BL 19th Century and UK Medical Heritage Library)

What is Historical Texts?

Historical Texts is a full text digital archive enabling you to cross search, view and download over 480,000 texts published in the late C15th to the long C19th.

It is comprised of four main collections:

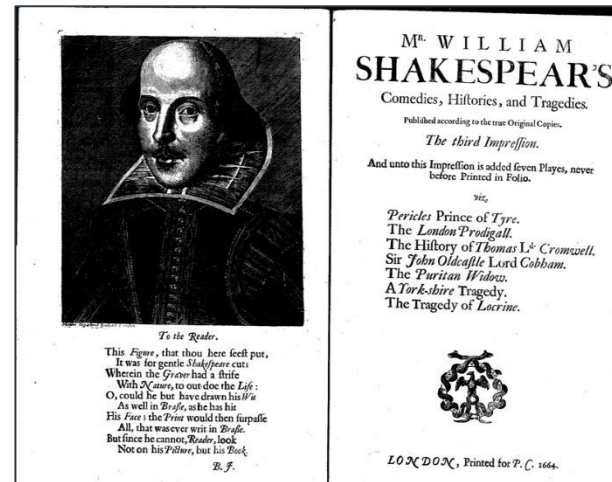

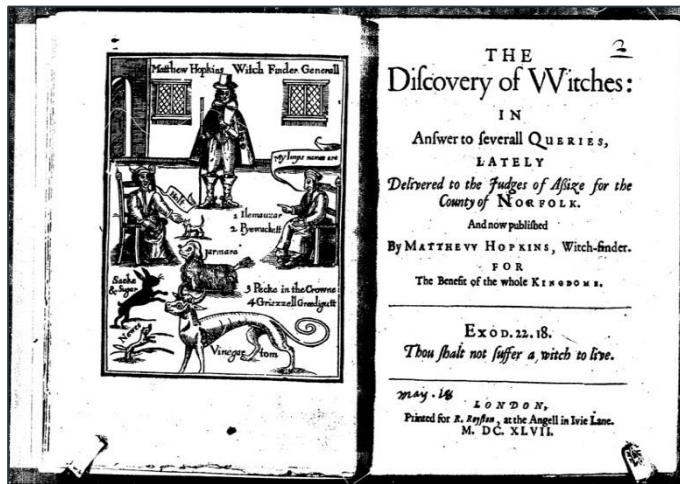

- » Early English Books Online (EEBO) (1473-1700)
- » Eighteenth Century Collections Online (ECCO) (1701-1800)
- » 65,000 texts from the British Library 19th Century collection (1789-1914)
- » 66,000 texts from the UK Medical Heritage Library (primarily C19)

Including a wealth of content ranging from the Romantic to the Victorian period and coverage subject areas including English literature, history, geography, science, social science, religion and medicine.

Materials include books, pamphlets, sermons, almanacs, sheet music, broadsides and newsbooks.

Early English Books Online (EEBO)

(1473-1700)

- » The scanned images, and full-text digital versions where available, of over 130,000 books printed in Britain and British North America, and works in English printed elsewhere, from the first book published in England up to 1700.
- » Authors include Shakespeare, Galileo, Bacon, Chaucer, Spenser and Margaret Cavendish.

Eighteenth Century Collections Online (ECCO)

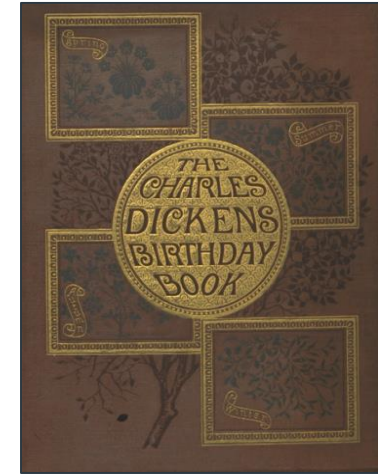

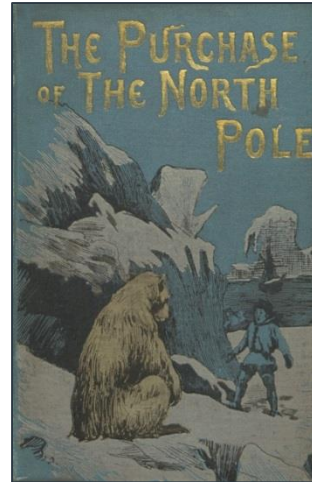

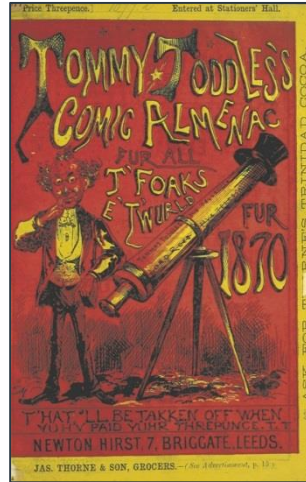

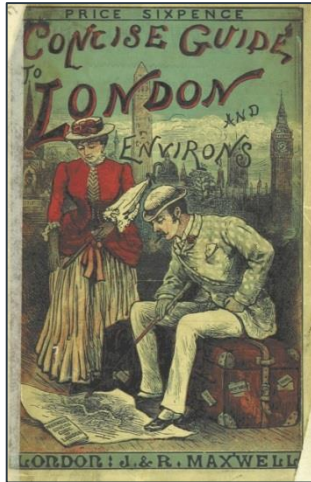

(1701-1800)

- » A digital collection of more than 215,000 titles published in Great Britain and its colonies during the eighteenth century, including works in languages other than English (e.g. French, German, Latin and Welsh)
- » Works include Daniel Defoe, Newton, Culpepper, Alexander Pope, Thomas Paine, Voltaire.

65,000 British Library 19th century texts (BL) (1789-1914)

- » Over 65,000 recently digitised editions from the British Library's 19th century collection, comprising over 25 million pages of previously rare and inaccessible titles.
- » Authors include Jane Austen, Charles Dickens, Jules Verne

UK Medical Heritage Library Collection (UKMHL)

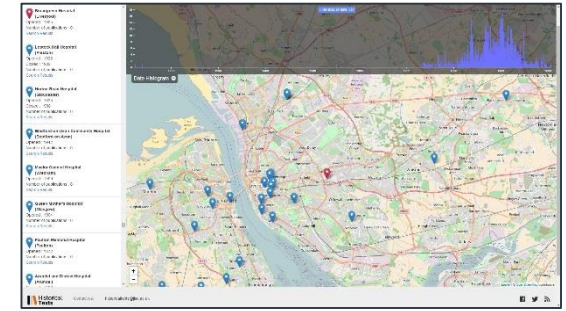

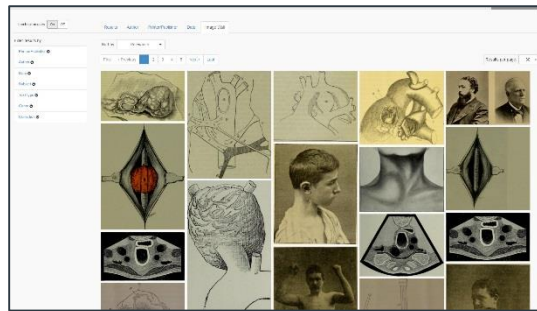

- » Over 66,000 digitised European medical publications from the nineteenth century
- » The collection has now been integrated into the main platform but remains open access
- » Full colour page images, PDF, ePub and OCR full text are downloadable for all publications in this collection

Key features

- » Cross-search EEBO, ECCO, 65, 000 texts from the British Library C19th collection and the UK Medical Heritage Library from the same platform
- » Search across both open access and subscription content
- » View and search the full text (where available) as well as the bibliographic information for texts
- » View images and full text side by side
- » Download whole publications (PDF) and individual images (JPEG).
- » View publication date histogram for search results
- » Additional download options for TCP-transcribed texts (ePub, XML, HTML, plain text)

Historical Texts Labs – Visualising Medical History project (VMH)

- » Bespoke visualisation tools built specially for the UKMHL collection in a sister project will continue to be available on the separate UKMHL labs site (ukmhl.historicaltexts.jisc.ac.uk)
- » The available visualisations are: Image Wall, Hospital Map, Ngram Viewer, Timeline, Sunbursts and Dendrograms
- » Facilitate new ways to explore the collection data

Search

The screenshot shows the Historical Texts website search page. A search bar at the top right contains the text "discovery of witches". To its right, a box indicates "Matched 943" results. Below the search bar, a dropdown menu is open, showing search fields: All, Title, Author, Printer/Publisher, Place of publication, Bibliographic Number, Language, Illustration description, Subject, Genre, Text type, and Collection. The "All" field is selected. To the right of the dropdown, a red arrow points to the search bar with the text "The number of results is shown here". Another red arrow points to the "Advanced Search" button with the text "Click here to show the advanced search options". Below the search bar, a red arrow points to the "Select a field to search" text. The main content area displays three collections: UKMHL (1800-1900's), EEBO (1473-1700), and ECCO (1701-1800). Each collection has a description and a grid of book covers. The UKMHL collection is described as containing images and full text of over 66,000 19th Century European medical publications. The EEBO collection is described as containing scanned images and full-text digital versions of over 125,000 books published in English up to 1700. The ECCO collection is described as a digital collection of more than 180,000 titles published in Great Britain and its colonies during the Eighteenth century. A "Contact Us" section is located in the bottom left corner, providing a helpline email and a link to join the JISCmail Mailing list.

Settings and toolbar

The screenshot shows the Historical Texts website interface. The top navigation bar includes links for Home, About, Browse, Support, and My Texts. On the right side of the navigation bar, there are four icons: a download icon, a share icon, a settings icon, and a login icon. These icons are highlighted with red boxes and red arrows pointing to them from the annotations.

Below the navigation bar is a search section with a dropdown menu set to 'All', a search input field with the placeholder text 'Enter search terms', and a 'Fuzzy and Variants' dropdown. To the right of the search input is a 'Search' button. Below the search section is a 'Advanced Search' button.

The main content area features a large heading 'One platform, over 400,000 late 15th to 19th century' and a list of download options: 'Download this page as a JPEG image', 'Download citation as RIS', 'Download publication as PDF', 'Download publication as XML', 'Download publication as EPUB', 'Download publication as HTML', and 'Download publication as TEXT'. A red arrow points from the 'copy a link for a document onto the clipboard (you must be in the viewer)' annotation to the download icon in the top navigation bar.

Below the download options is a 'Support' button with a question mark icon. A red arrow points from the 'Help information can be found on the support and help file pages' annotation to this button.

On the right side of the main content area, there is a 'Login' button. A red arrow points from the 'Login' annotation to this button.

At the bottom right, there is a 'HT Personalisation Options' dialog box. It contains settings for 'Thumbnails' (On/Off), 'Advanced Panel' (Open/Closed), and 'Collections' (Select default). There are 'Reset' and 'Close' buttons at the bottom. A red arrow points from the 'Change your personalisation settings when you are logged in' annotation to this dialog box.

Annotations in red text include:

- copy a link for a document onto the clipboard (you must be in the viewer)
- Help information can be found on the support and help file pages
- Download documents in a variety of formats (you must be in viewer)
- Login

Saving items and search terms

The screenshot shows the Historical Texts website interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with 'Home', 'About', 'Browse', 'Support', and 'My Texts'. A search bar is on the left with 'Author' set to 'shakespeare, william' and 'Fuzzy and Variants' selected. A dropdown menu for 'My Texts' is open, showing 'Saved Searches', 'My Saved Items', and 'My Tags'. A search button and 'Matched 1416' are on the right.

The main content area shows a search result for 'The vvhole contention betweene the tvo famous houses, Lancaster and Yorke'. The result is highlighted with a red box. It includes a thumbnail of the book cover, the title, author (Shakespeare, William, 1564-1616), printer/publisher (By William Jaggard for Thomas Pavier), publication date (1619), publication place (Printed at London), and bibliographic number/identifier (26101 (STC 2nd ed.)). It also shows '65 pages' and an 'EEBO' button.

Below the result, there are tabs for 'Results', 'Author', 'Printer/Publisher', 'Periodicals', 'Thomason Tracts', and 'My Saved Items'. The 'My Saved Items' tab is highlighted with a red box. A 'Save Search' button is also highlighted with a red box.

At the bottom, there's a section for 'Shakespeare' with a list of items. The first item is 'The vvhole contention betweene the tvo famous houses, Lancaster and Yorke'. It has a checkbox next to it, and buttons for 'Edit', 'Add 1 Item', and 'Delete'. A 'Remove Item' button is at the bottom right. A 'Create New Collection' button is also highlighted with a red box.

Annotations on the right side of the screenshot provide instructions:

1. Use the check boxes to select the item(s) you wish to save
2. Click the saved items tab
3. Add the item to an existing collection
4. Or create a new collection and add the item to it
